

I am a business man with hundreds of thousands of miles on airlines. I am constantly in communication with my office and colleagues but I beseech you....

Please do not allow cell phone access on airborne flights. There is not enough space between passengers to enable one person to talk in private without disturbing other passengers. Most planes already have phones on them. Because of the cost of using these phones calls are kept to a minimum. This is all the phone communication a person needs on an airplane.